Nordik Boar

Instructions

Nordik Boar is especially developed for calling wild boar. The sound that is produced by the call imitates the contact sound that the boars make when they are rooting and feeding. This makes the pigs believe there is already a group of wild boars pretty close and this gives them the courage to approach quick and incautious.

The call is very simple to use, expand the lower part of the call and place the mouthpiece between your lips. Blow short sprouts of air repeatedly with various pauses between each breath to make the sound of contact grunts, make sure not to blow saliva into the call. Work with opening and closing your hands in front of the call for an authentic sound.
